Viewing art learning as a cognitive coalition of ideas, media, language, human processes, and cultural cues allows us to ignore the rhetorical question: should art emphasize the process or the product? Graeme Sullivan

Bulletin Description:
Against the background of historical movements, trends, and issues in art education, the course surveys contemporary literature in the field. The course makes the connection between theory and practice. Students acquire the necessary library research skills, identify a topic of personal interest and develop this topic into a piece of qualitative research in art education.

Background:
This course introduces students to current theory and research in art and design education. Students explore the diverse and sometimes conflicting orientations in the field that touch on the nature of art and design, what is worth teaching and the purposes of art and design education. Students then explore a research topic of personal and professional interest.

Students will develop the capacity to draw on theory and research in the field of art and design education to inform their content knowledge and instructional planning, aligned with New York State Teaching standards.

New York State Teaching Standards:
The goal of this course is to meet the following New York State Teaching Standards:

Standard II: Knowledge of Content and Instructional Planning
Teachers know the content they are responsible for teaching, and plan instruction that ensures growth and achievement for all students.

● Element II.2:
  Teachers understand how to connect concepts across disciplines, and engage learners in critical and innovative thinking and collaborative problem solving related to real world contexts.

Performance Indicators:
   a. Teachers facilitate students’ ability to develop diverse social and cultural perspectives.
   b. Teachers incorporate perspectives from varied disciplines and interdisciplinary skills in their instruction.

Standard IV: Professional Growth
Teachers set informed goals and strive for continuous professional growth.
   ● Element VII.I
      Teachers reflect on their practice to improve instructional effectiveness and guide professional growth.
      Performance Indicator:
      a. Teachers use acquired information to identify personal strengths and weaknesses and plan professional growth.

Course Goals:
   ● To explore and analyze contemporary research in the visual arts and art and design education.
   ● To make connections between research and practice in art and design education.
   ● To design assessment tasks and evaluation criteria.

Learning Outcomes:
Students will be able to:
   ● Access, analyze and use professional literature to increase understanding of teaching and learning.
   ● Make connections between research in the field of art and design education and classroom practice.
   ● Assess student learning.
   ● Identify a research topic that is relevant to professional practice.

Learning Outcomes Tasks:

“ResearchLab” Assignments 25% Teacher evaluation
ResearchLab assignments are a space to explore, question and practice inquiry-based research alongside each week’s readings. Throughout the course students will be expected to formulate an essential question about the assigned readings and respond to a weekly prompt or activity that connects to course themes and ideas. E-mail me the question and activity response before class and I will post it on the course blog. Please come to class with the reading and question, highlighted and annotated with your notes and questions. Be prepared to actively participate in a collaborative discussion. You will be asked to share your question and reflection at the beginning of each class.
Theory into Practice
25% Rubrics
Prepare and present a powerpoint sharing a lesson or a learning segment you have taught in the past. This presentation should include the following elements:

1. Example artworks from students and/or example artworks that inspired or connect to the lesson or learning segment.
2. An assessment from your lesson or learning segment you will use to evaluate your students’ developing knowledge and skills. It should be an assessment to be completed by the entire class. The assessment should provide opportunities for students to demonstrate their ability to create or respond to visual arts concepts incorporating, form and structure, production, art context, and personal perspective.
3. A defined evaluation criteria you will use to analyze student learning (specific standards/objectives). The edTPa Planning Rubrics 2 and 5 will be used for self-evaluation and instructor evaluation.

Research Topic Mind Map
10% Teacher evaluation
Create a visual thinking map of your research topic

Annotated Bibliography
15% Rubric
Identify your research topic, search for 8-10 journal articles and books, and write an annotated bibliography (see format and example on website).

Literature Review Outline
5% Rubric
Prepare an outline for the literature review (see sample on website).

Literature Review
10% Rubric
Write an 8-10 page literature review (see samples and rubric on website)

Visual Presentation
10% Rubric
Prepare a powerpoint presentation of your literature review and link it to your teaching practice (See samples on website)

COURSE OUTLINE

Introduction
Week 1: January 22

What can we learn from research in the field? How do we connect research and practice in art and design education?

Activities: Visit historical archives in the Pratt Library
Develop Questionnaire Scroll - what is a quality arts education? What does it look and feel like? What are some useful teaching/learning strategies you’ve experience personally?

Class reading:

Assignment for Week 2:
ResearchLab: Review the assigned readings and develop an essential question in response. Develop a list of 5 issues or challenges you feel are facing art educators in the 21st century. Try and support your ideas with evidence from your own experience or literature from the field.

Art and Design Education in the 21st Century
Week 2: January 29

How do some art educators design curriculum that reflects the reality of contemporary art and culture?

Activities:
Socratic Seminar: A 21st Century Art Curriculum
Discussion of Theory into Practice Assignment
Expressionism, Reconstructionism and Rationalism

Reading for Week 2:

Assignments for Week 3:
ResearchLab: Review the assigned readings and develop an essential question in response. In 1-2 paragraphs describe your approach to contemporary visual arts education - what are some of the practical and theoretical aspects of your personal philosophy or approach?

Contemporary Art and Ideas
Week 3: February 5

Why do art educators today argue for a curriculum focused on ideas and themes associated with contemporary art-making practices?

Activities:
Socratic Seminar: A comprehensive and DBAE approach
Theory into Practice Presenter: TBA

Reading for Week 3:

Assignment for Week 4
ResearchLab: Review the assigned readings and develop an essential question in response. Select a curriculum or lesson plan that you find exciting or useful. Identify one or more “enduring understandings” that you feel connect to this curriculum and explain why in a 1 paragraph response. Bring the lesson plan with you to class.

Curricular Design
Week 4: February 12
How does inquiry-based instruction help students construct rather than receive knowledge?

Activities:
Socratic Seminar: Backward Design and Enduring Understandings
Theory into Practice Presenter: TBA

Reading for Week 4:

Recommended Reading:

Assignment for Week 5
ResearchLab: Review the assigned readings and develop an essential question in response. Using your lesson plan from last week as inspiration, develop your own strategy for implementing this lesson with an age-group of your choice. Identify how you will engage students in meaningful artmaking by using Appendix C (pg. 144-147) in Rethinking Curriculum in Art to assist you.

Contemporary Art and Instruction
Week 5: February 19
How do enduring understandings guide the curriculum?

Activities:
Socratic Seminar: Teaching for Deep Understanding
Theory into Practice Presentation: TBA
Respond to National Core Arts Standards

Reading for Week 5:

Recommended Reading:

Assignments for Week 6
ResearchLab: Review the assigned readings and develop an essential question in response. Using your lesson plan from last week as inspiration, develop a plan for performance tasks (assessment) using Appendix O (pg. 152) in Rethinking Curriculum in Art to assist you.

Contemporary Art and Assessment Part 1
Week 6: February 26
How do art educators assess students’ deep understanding of ideas and concepts?

Activities:
Socratic Seminar: Assessing what is Important
Presentation: Anne Schneider - Critiquing the Art Critique

Reading for Week 6:

Recommended Reading:
Assessment in Art Education by Angela Maiers

Assignment Week 7
ResearchLab: Review the assigned readings and develop an essential question in response. In 1-2 paragraphs reflect on your own experience of both being assessed in school, and being the assessor. What are some of the contemporary challenges of measuring performance and conducting critique in the contemporary art classroom?

Contemporary Art and Assessment: Part 2
Week 7: March 5

Activities:
Socratic Seminar: Critique
Theory into Practice: TBA
Mid-term evaluations (schedule individual meetings)

Reading for Week 7:

Recommended Reading

Assignments Week 8:
1. ResearchLab: Review the assigned readings and develop an essential question in response. Develop 2-3 ideas for a community-based art project you would facilitate with an age group of your choice. Identify some of the ethical and conceptual challenges associated with the project alongside any potential social and cultural benefits.
2. Develop a Research Interest Statement (1-2 paragraphs) outlining some of your personal research interests and questions concerning contemporary art and design education.

Rethinking Teaching and Socially Engaged Art
Week 8: March 12
How do art teachers address socially engaged art in the classroom?

Activities:
Socratic Seminar: Socially Engaged Art

Reading Week 8:

Recommended Reading:

Assignment Week 11:
1. ResearchLab: Review the assigned readings and develop an essential question in response.
2. Create a Research Topic Statement & Mind Map (Use this online tutorial to assist you: http://www.library.arizona.edu/help/tutorials/mindMap/sample.php)

Week 9: March 19  SPRING BREAK

Week 10: March 26  NAEA Conference (New Orleans) No Class

Teaching in the Art Museum
Week 11: April 2

Activities: Field Trip to Brooklyn Museum

Reading for Week 11:

Recommended Reading

Assignments Week 12:
ResearchLab: Review the assigned readings and develop an essential question in response. Visit http://www.designigniteschange.org/projects and select a project case study that you are personally interested in. Write a 1 paragraph response summarizing the intent of the project and identify at least one research question that could connect to the project’s theme and/or intention.
Design Thinking and the Integrated Curriculum
Week 12: April 9

How does design serve as a catalyst for learning?

Activities:
Socratic Seminar: Design as a Catalyst for Learning
Mind Map Presentations

Reading for Week 12:

Recommended Reading:

Assignment for Week 13:
2. Due: Annotated Bibliography
3. Due: Outline for Literature Review

Parents and Educators
Week 13: April 16

Activity:
Socratic Seminar: Parents and Educators
Presentation: The Art Teacher’s Role in Parent Involvement
Individual meetings to discuss outline

Reading for Week 13:

Recommended Reading:

Assignment for Week 14:
1. ResearchLab: Review the assigned readings and develop an essential question in response.
2. Draft Literature Review

Draft Literature Review
Week 14: April 23

Activity:
Peer Review: Literature Review

Assignment Week 15:
Revised Literature Review

Thesis Exhibition Visit
Week 15: April 29

Assignment Week 16:
Literature Review Presentations

Literature Review Presentations
Week 16: May 7

Presentations should include a 10-15 minute powerpoint. Recommended guidelines will be circulated.
Pratt and NASAD Policies

Disabilities:
Accommodations for students with disabilities Pratt Institute is committed to assisting students with documented disabilities who are otherwise qualified for admission to the institute. Students requesting accommodations must submit appropriate written documentation to Director of Disability Services and Parent Programs: Mai MacDonald on 718 636 3711 in the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Class Workload:
As per NASAD guidelines: “In lecture/discussion courses requiring outside preparation, one hour of credit represents one hour each week of the term in class, and two hours of work outside class.”
http://nasad.arts-accredit.org/index.jsp?page=FAQ%3A+NASAD+Standards+Review

Plagiarism:
“Plagiarism means presenting, as one’s own, the words, the work, information, or the opinions of someone else. It is dishonest, since the plagiarist offers, as his/her own, for credit, the language or information, or thought for which he/she deserves no credit.” (see page 68, Pratt Institute Student Online Handbook)

Attendance and Conduct:
“The continued registration of any student is contingent upon regular attendance, the quality of work and proper conduct. Irregular attendance, neglect of work, failure to comply with Institute rules and official notices, or conduct not consistent with general good order is regarded as sufficient reasons for dismissal. There are no unexcused absences or cuts. Students are expected to attend all classes. Any unexcused absences may affect the final grade. Three unexcused absences may result in course failure at the discretion of the instructor (see page 68, Pratt Institute Student Online Handbook). It is not permitted to hand in work for this class that was produced for other classes (Pratt Institute Student Online Handbook).
