

Site as Text

an aid to thinking about spaces as texts

Considering Context

Who is the 'author' of this site?

When was this site designed/built?

Has it been modified? How? By whom?

Who is the target audience?

Who paid for it?

Internal Aspects

What are the materials in use?

What architectural features are in play? (Stairs, columns, domes, lights, technology, windows, entrances/exits, decoration?)

How do the parts relate to each other?

Form and Content/Function

What is the function of this site?

Does this site 'stand for' something?

How does this site relate to your eye? To your body?

What is the form of this site 'saying' about the content?

What possibilities does this site allow for?

How does this site limit the possibilities of its function/content?
